

2011 Census of Population, Households and Dwellings in the Republic of Serbia

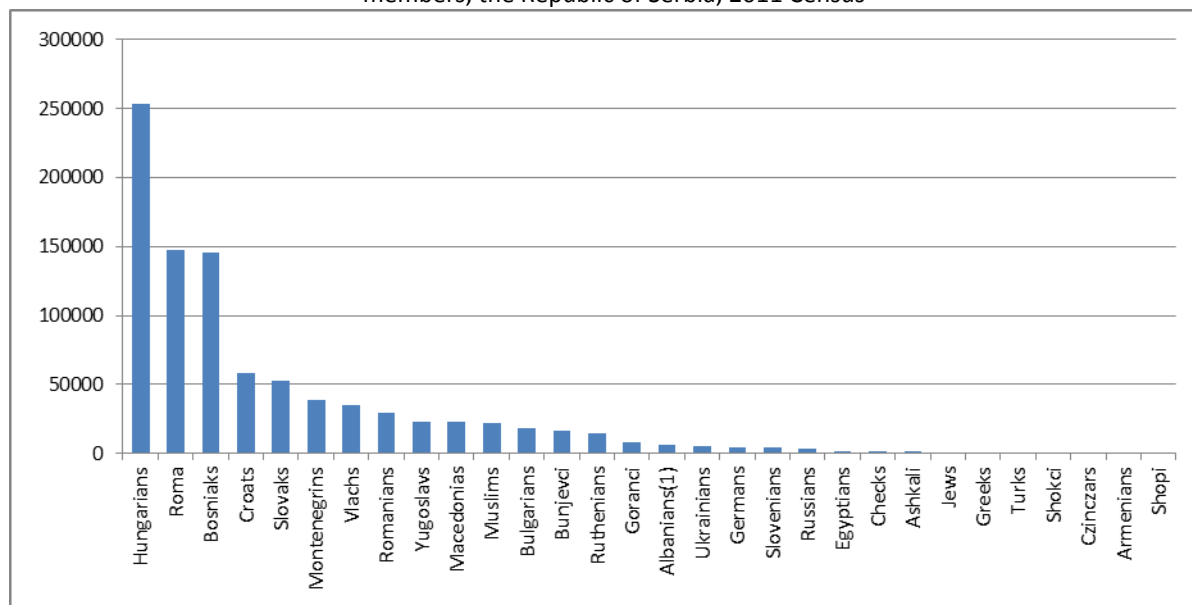

SERBIAN ETHNICAL, CONFESSIONAL AND LINGUISTIC MOSAIC

The Statistical Office of the Republic of Serbia will release the publication “Serbian ethnical, confessional and linguistic mosaic” where, applying demographic, socio-confessional, socio-linguistic and legal and normative approach analyzed were the Census data concerning the Serbs and the members of other 30 ethnic communities.

The publication “Serbian ethnical, confessional and linguistic mosaic” by the authors Dr Vladimir Đurić, Prof Dr Darko Tanasković and Prof Dr Dragan Vukmirović offers a multidisciplinary presentation of the ethnical, confessional and linguistic diversity of the population living in the territory of the Republic of Serbia by analyzing their demographic, educational, migratory and socio-economic features.

In 2011 Census of Population, Households and Dwellings¹, pursuant to Constitution provisions the data on ethnical, confessional and linguistic characteristics should result from the free expression of individuals, i.e. parents, adopting parents or guardians for the children below the age of 15.

Graph 1. Ethnic communities that apart from Serbs were subject to the analysis of the study, by number of members, the Republic of Serbia, 2011 Census

¹ 2011 Census was not conducted in the territory of AP Kosovo and Metohija, while in the municipalities Preševo i Bujanovac undercoverage of census units was recorded due to the boycott by majority of the members of Albanian ethnic community.

2011 Census was carried out in the period from 1 to 15 October 2011, in compliance with the Law on the Census of Population, Households and Dwellings (Official Gazette of RS, No 104/09 and 24/11). The Census was financially supported by the European Union with the share of 60% in the total costs.

The results of the Census can be found in electronic form at www.stat.gov.rs and www.popis2011.stat.rs.

Director

Prof Dr Dragan Vukmirović

Contact person:
Snežana Lakčević, Head
Census of population division
Phone: +381 11 2401 347
snezana.lakcevic@stat.gov.rs
Information and dissemination unit tel.: +381 11 2401 284
stat@stat.gov.rs

www.popis2011.stat.rs

